

Poster design by Darryl Graham

Darryl Graham is an Oakville based Graphic Artist. He recently graduated in 2007 from Sheridan College's Bachelor of Arts in Illustration.

While he mainly creates artwork for action sport products (Snowboard/Skateboard design), he also does graphic design for a number of Toronto based companies. His artwork and design have been published in multiple magazines such as Men's Health Magazine (along side Kagan McLeod), Glow Magazine, Best Health Magazine, The Ninja Turtles comic book and recently had artwork shown on "MTV's Cribs" for his Pro Snowboard for Option rider Chris Dufficy.

Darryl explores a wide range of styles and methods which opens him up to a broad client base that suits everyone from the conservative and professional to the wild and wacky. Darryl does freelance work and always loves a new and exciting challenge. He has a sharp, clever and creative young mind that is apt for the business he loves.

Please feel free to explore Darryl's blog at <http://www.darrylgraham.com/>.